WITH MUCH THANKS

Throughout the school year, we seem to take our teachers and administration for granted. They are always there for us when we need them, but we never seem to remember all the extra time they spend helping us each day, and all the little things they do for us that we don't even know about. If it wasn't for all the things they do for us, we would never make it through the day, let alone the year. We often remember one or two of you as special without realizing that all of you are special. We don't mean to forget anyone or leave anyone out, but it always happens sooner or later.

Therefore, as our way of saying thank you to all of you—faculty, teachers, and administration, we would like to dedicate the 1986 Conococheague to you. Thank you. Without you we would have missed so much.

INVOLVEMENT

Involvement. It's something that can't be defined or taught. Yet, you learn it in school as well as at home. It's helping others without being asked. It's volunteering for the job that nobody wants to do but must be done. It's staying late on a Friday when Miami Vice is on and you know you're going to miss it because you just won't get home in time. It's what separates adults from children. It's taking an active part in life when you would prefer to be a spectator. It's all of these things and more. But, mainly, involvement is growing up. And, it doesn't end there. Involvement goes on your entire life. The involvement that has taken place this year-by you; by the administration, is only the beginning. It grows as you grow and gets stronger with age. Don't ever lose it. It's one of the most important things you can offer another person.

Bel,

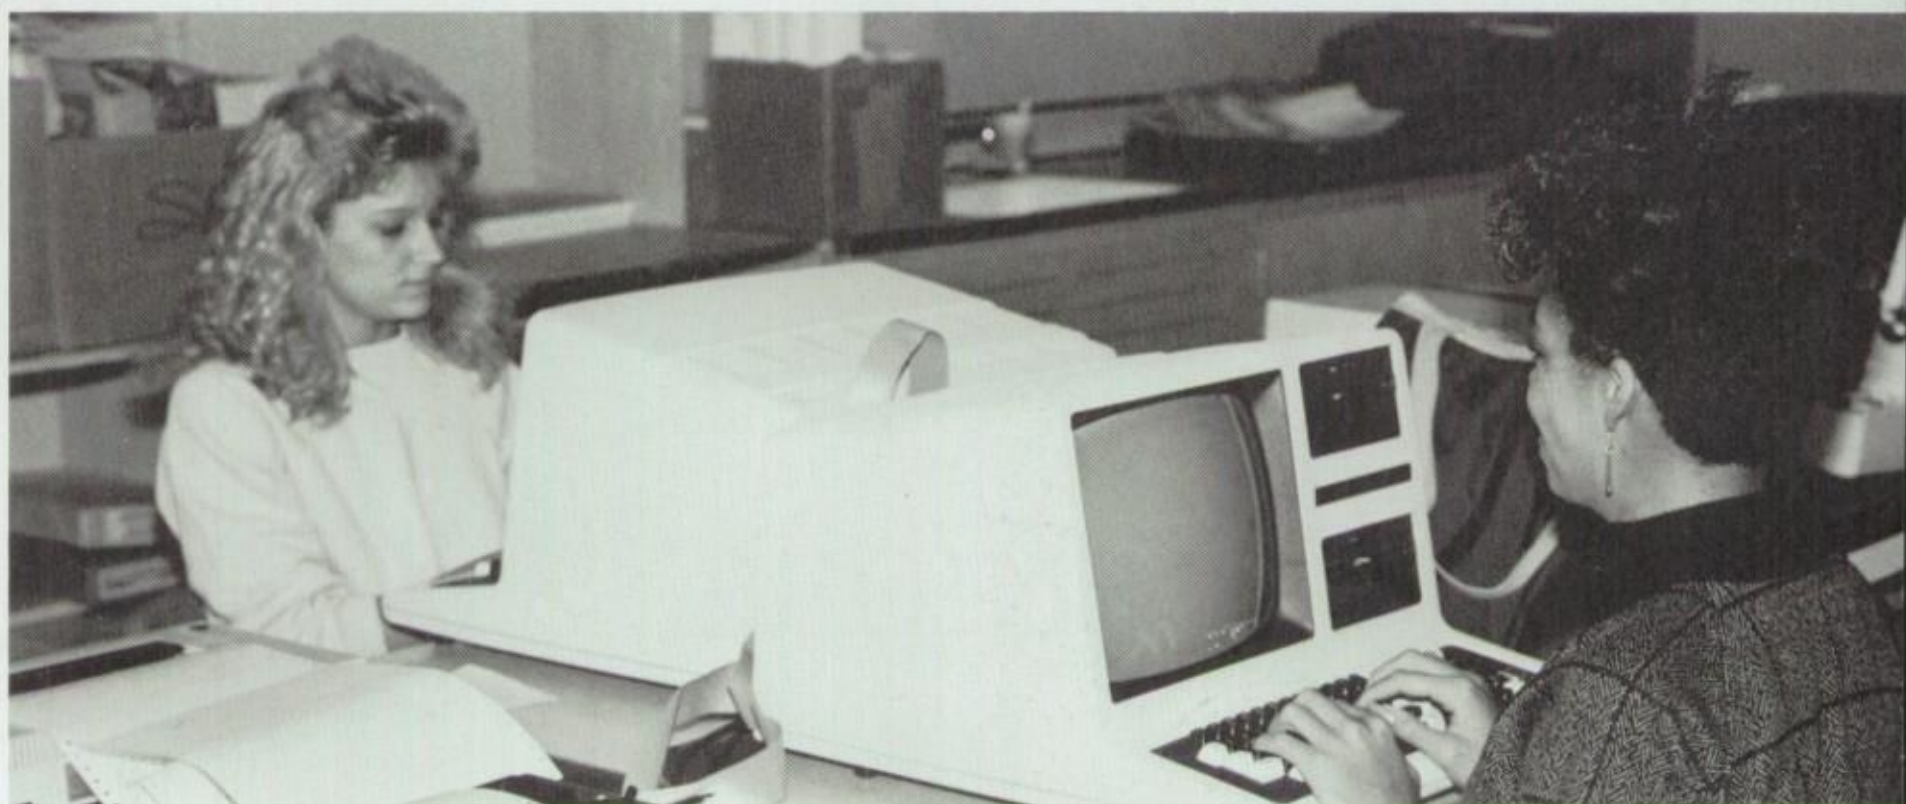

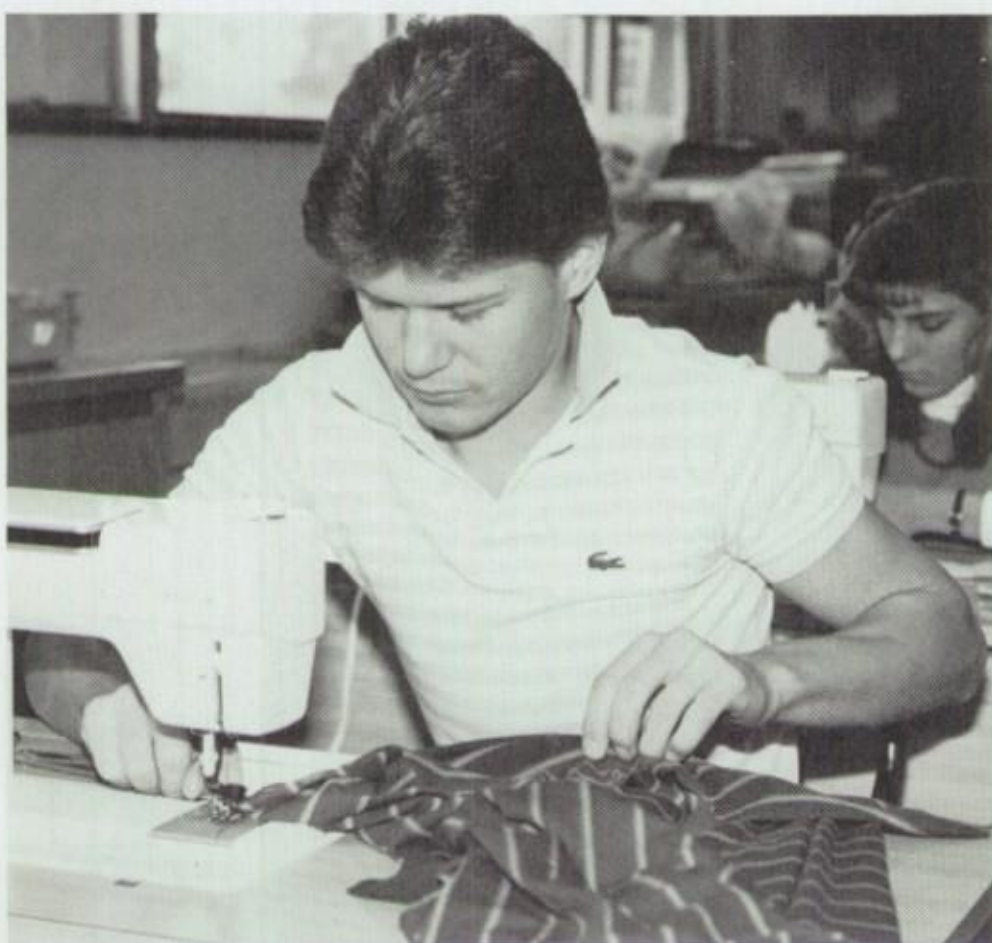

To a really nice person
I got to know better
this year. Remember all those art + gym classes. Thanks for being a part of my senior year.

Love,
Wanda.

JUNIOR CLASS INVADES

The junior class took its annual Washington trip October 29. We boarded the buses around 5:45, and a few minutes later we were on our way. I was excited!

The ride down seemed like it would never end, but we finally arrived around 8:00. The first place we visited was the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. We were just in time to see the changing of the guard. It's a very impressive sight. We also saw John F. Kennedy's grave at Arlington National Cemetery.

Our next stop was the Lincoln Memorial. The Reflecting pool by the Memorial added a sense of calmness to what was becoming a very hectic morning.

One of my favorite places was next - The Vietnam Veteran's Memorial. The monument makes an impressive statement.

Our trip took us to the FBI headquarters next. We learned about law enforcement and crimes of yesterday and today. They still shoot the machine gun. We liked that.

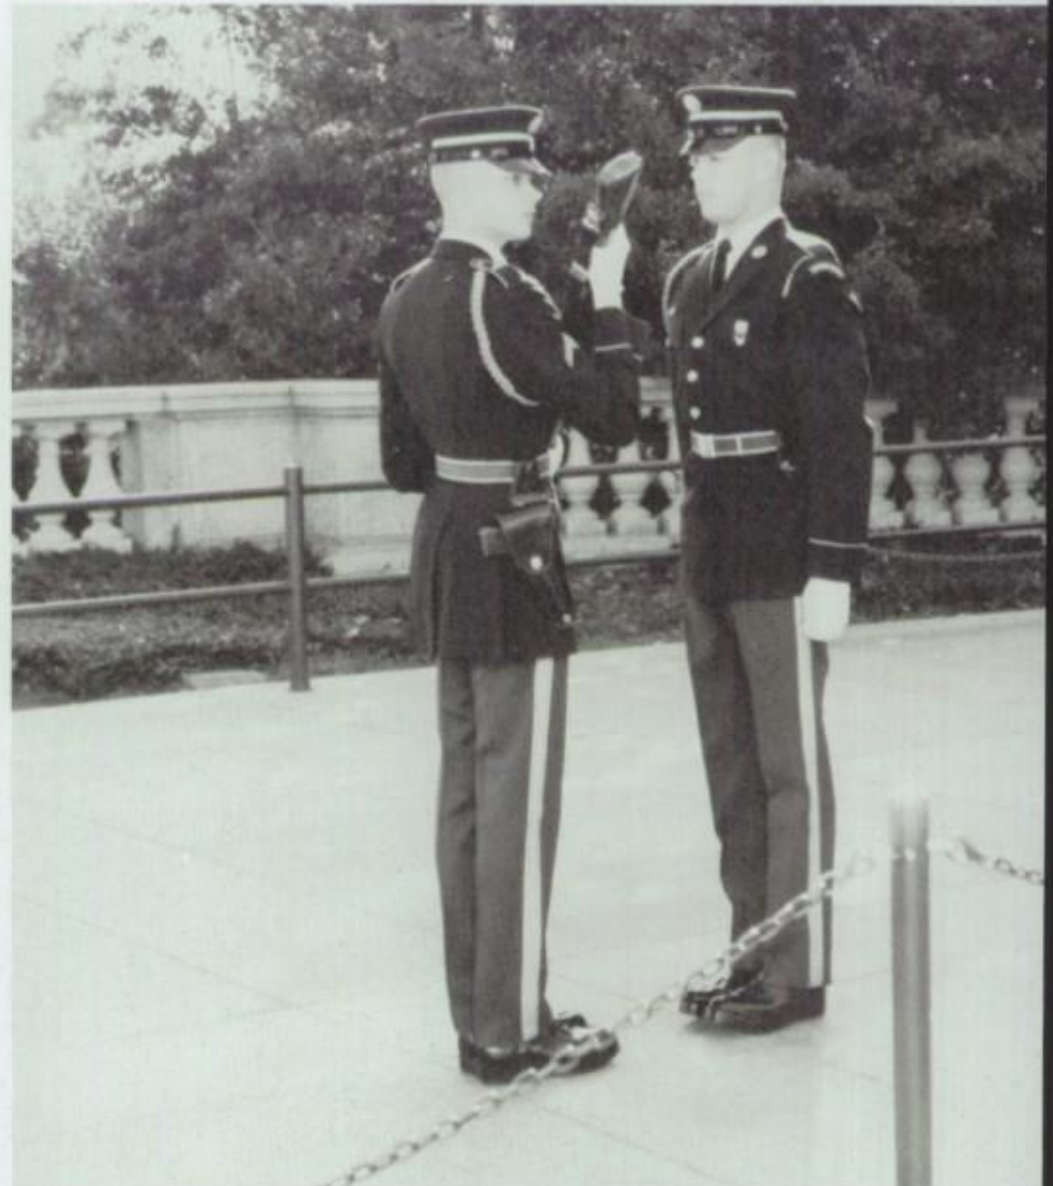

By then it was time for lunch. The morning had gone by so quickly we hardly noticed the time. We ate by the Jefferson Memorial. It was cold, so most of us spent the time on the buses.

After lunch we drove past the White House. The next stop was The Mall. We spread out and invaded the museums that surround the Mall. Air and Space, Natural History, The 1876 Centennial Exhibit, The National Gallery, even all the way to the Capital-nothing escaped us.

But, the best part of the trip came on the way home. We stopped at the Montgomery Mall. Two and a half hours to do what we wanted! Within reason, of course. So, naturally, we went crazy.

The trip was a smashing success. We all had a great time. We even learned a thing or two. For example, did you know you can fit ten people into the bathroom on a bus?

ACTIVITIES

HOMECOMING

Numerous committees began planning for Homecoming weeks in advance. Their work and preparation began to show as Spirit Week initiated Homecoming 1985 on Monday, October 7.

The week began with Clash Day. Rhonda Lindsay and Butch Patalinghug were recognized as most mismatched.

Nerds invaded the school Tuesday, with Jeremy Hirneisen and Tracy Myers taking first place.

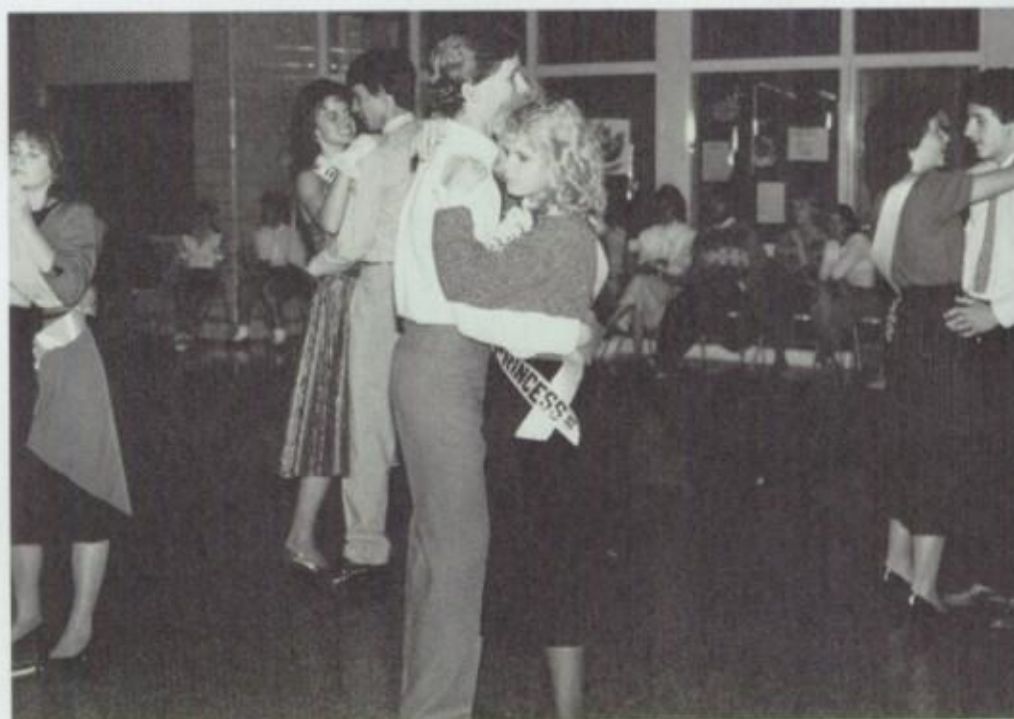

Awards for Celebrity Day on Wednesday went to Peggy Freeman and Craig Vanderau. A bonfire was held in the evening to practice incinerating the Canners.

Thursday was Blue and Gold Day, with Michaelle Keiffer and Sandy Snider taking honors. The seniors earned first place and the juniors took second place in the banner competition. A pep rally occurred at the end of the day.

Friday was Dress Up Day. Jamie Craig and Tina McCoy were the class acts. The traditional parade circuted through town in the evening, leading into the pre-game show, where Carol Ritz was crowned Homecoming Queen. The football match versus Biglerville followed.

Alumni hockey and soccer games and a dance sponsored by WIKZ-95 were held Saturday, culminating one of Greencastle's largest Homecomings.

HAPPENINGS

Homecoming has always been exciting for me. Even as a freshman, I looked forward to Spirit Week and the Homecoming Dance. But, I never thought I would be chosen Homecoming Queen.

Even though I was nominated, I never expected to become one of the three princesses chosen to represent my senior class.

As Spirit Week slowly progressed, I became anxious, thinking Friday night would never come. Finally, it was here!

When I arrived at the school, I was filled with excitement. All the princesses received flowers and sachets. Also, many pictures were taken of the princesses and their escorts. During the Homecoming parade, I became more and more nervous.

When we returned to the school, we waited anxiously for the pre-game ceremonies. When it was finally time to announce the Queen, I was relieved yet tense. Mr. McConnell announced the Queen's name. It was mine! Last year's Queen, Lori Yeager, placed the crown on my head. I felt so honored.

Being crowned Greencastle-Antrim's 1985 Homecoming Queen was one of the most memorable events of my senior year. I would like to thank everyone who made that special dream come true.

KING AND QUEEN OF HEARTS

MIKE AND ANGIE

The proceeds from this year's King and Queen of Hearts contest for Valentine's Day were not given to the American Heart Association as usual, but were contributed to help pay the medical costs for Cheryl Armstrong, a GAHS senior. Four couples competed: Angie Bailey and Mike Barvinchack; Missy Feldman and Brian Stouffer; Kim Oberholzer and Travis Myers; and Carly White and Darrell Hammond. With $312.91, Angie and Mike won, and were treated by the Student Council to dinner at the Airport Inn. Students, faculty, and community members gave a combined total of $1033.93 to help Cheryl Armstrong.

As always, Greencastle had it's annual magazine Drive this year. All of the students had the chance to win a variety of prizes based on how many magazine subscriptions they sold.

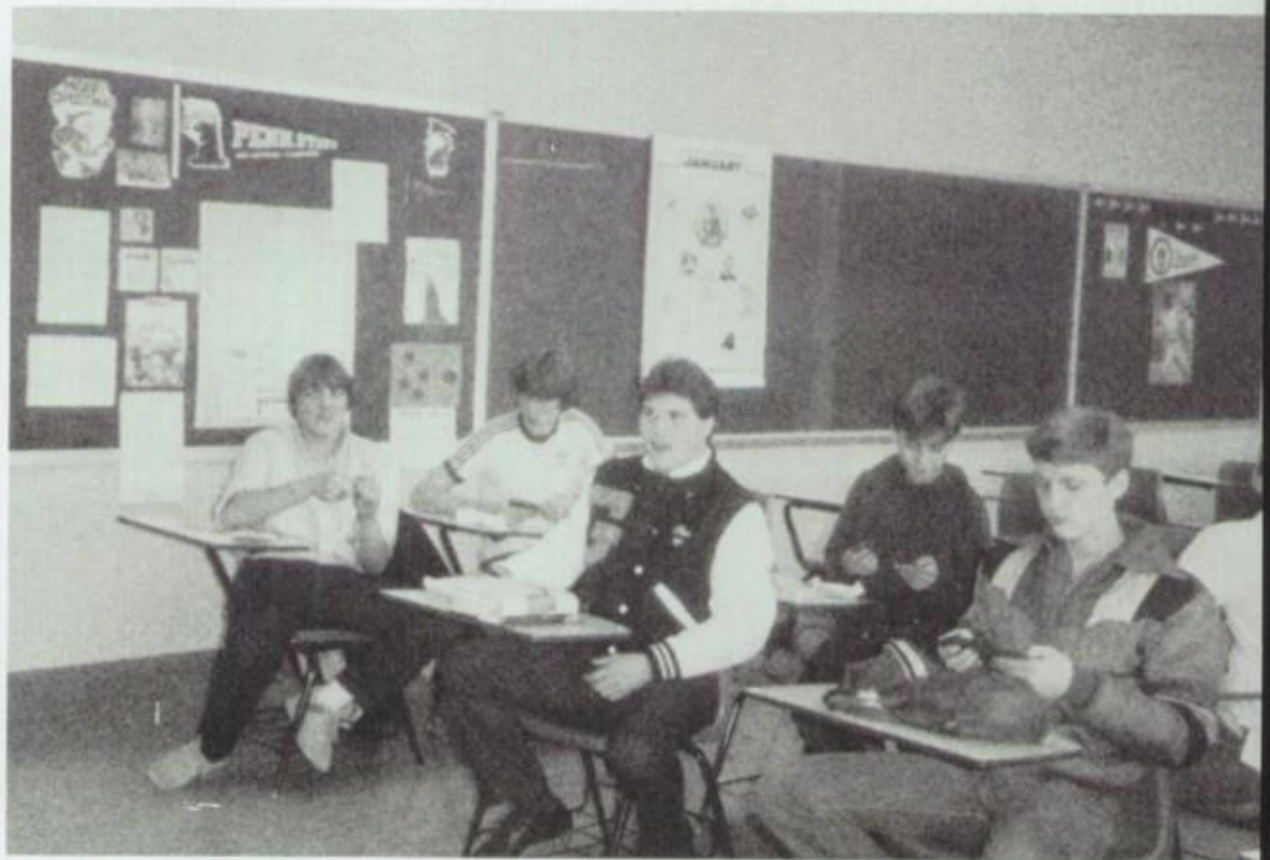

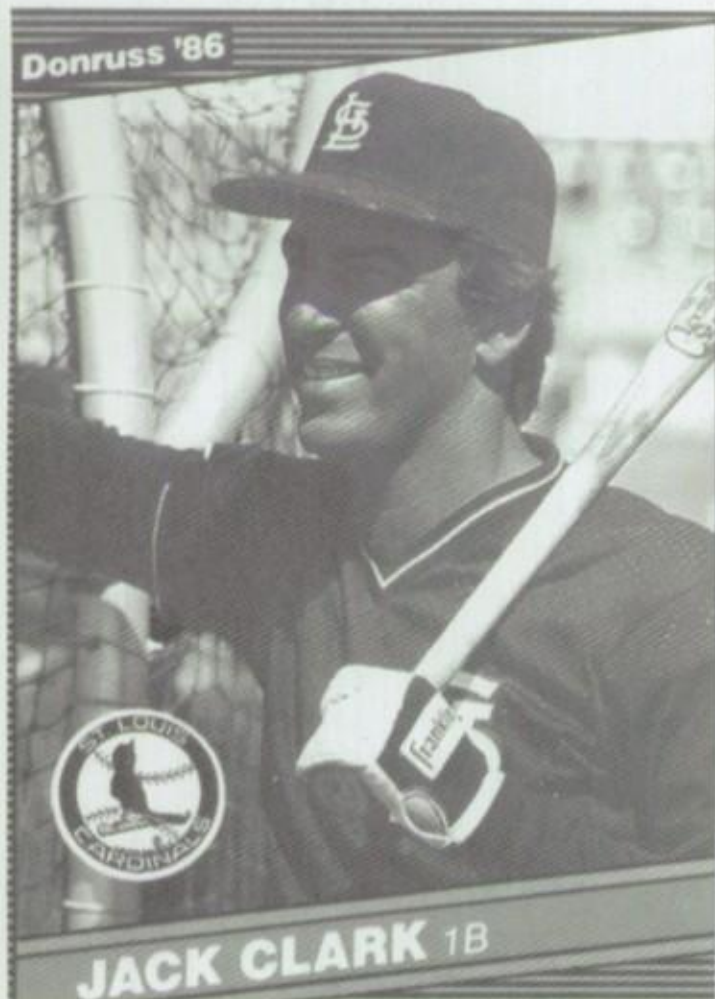

This year I decided that I wanted to be the best salesperson. I went to all my relatives friends, and neighbors. I raised a total of $218.52. The entire school sold $5961.24. I was very happy and surprised that I got the prize for best salesperson. Then I received the check for twenty-five dollars and all the other prizes, I felt all of my effort was worth it.

Bringing attention to the outstanding achievements of high school students is what the National Honor Society is all about. Recognition is based upon the demonstration of four qualities held in high esteem: scholarship; service; leadership; and character. College Admissions officers say that members are usually successful college students.

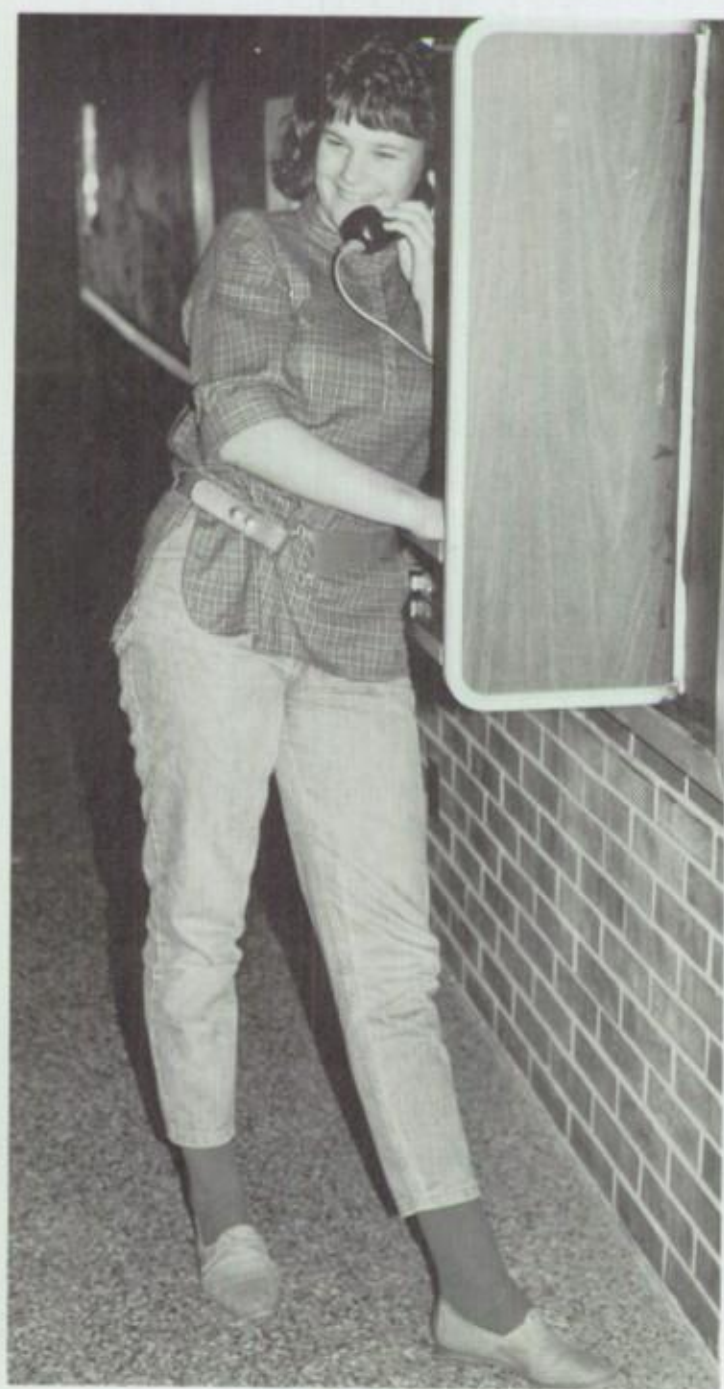

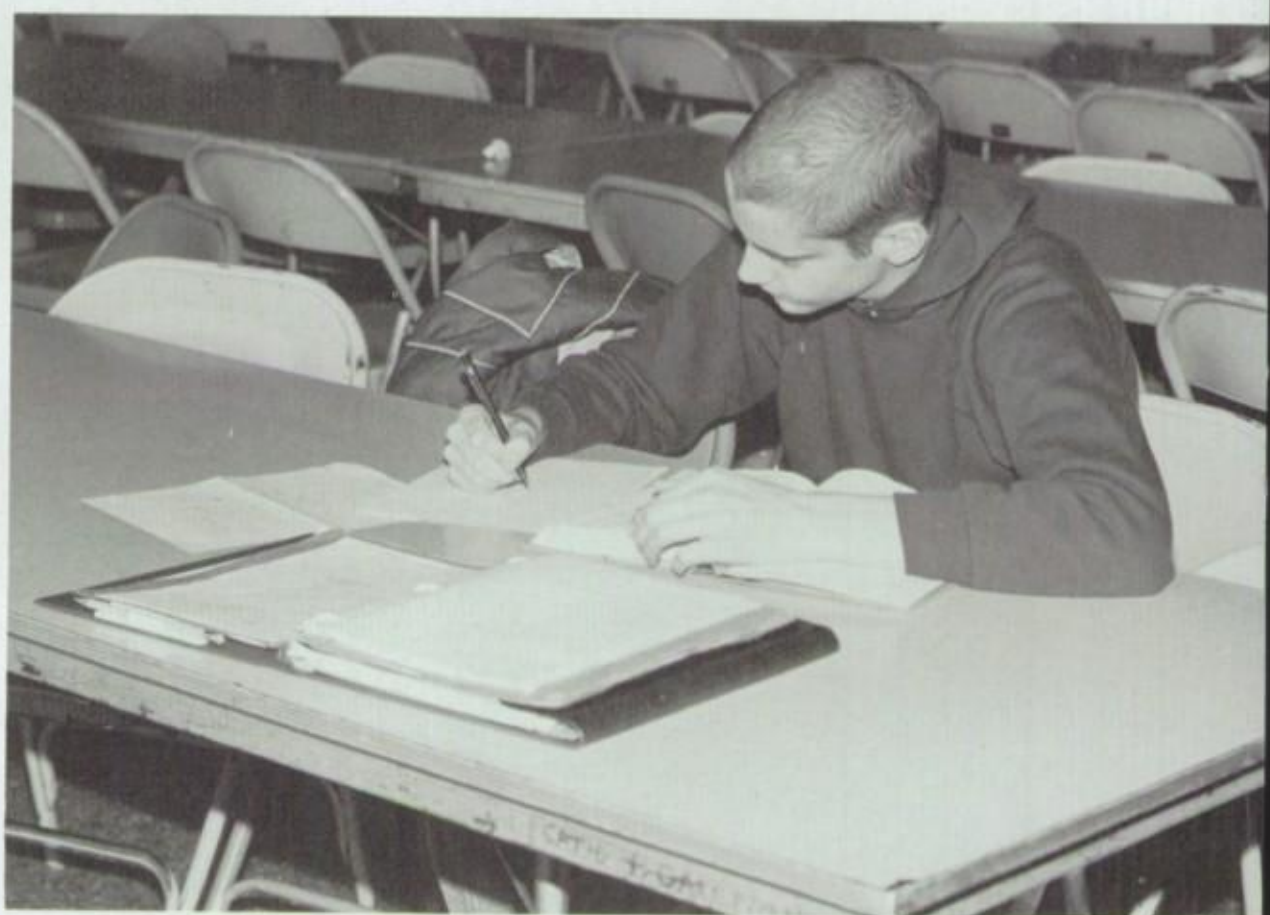

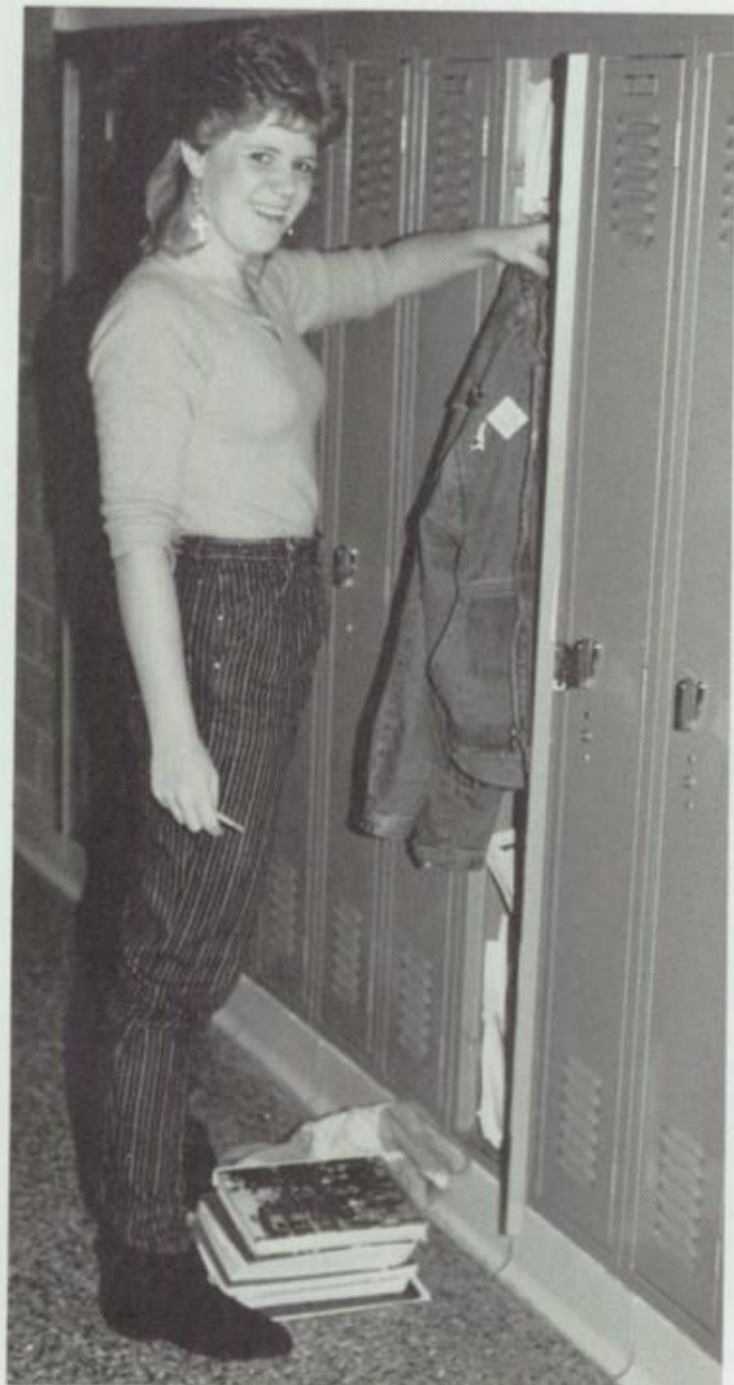

Each year, members of the junior and senior class who meet the requirements and demonstrate the four qualities mentioned above are inducted into the Society during an assembly held in the spring.

When is the next dance? When do homecoming mums go on sale? When is spirit week? To find the answers to these and many other questions concerning school activities, just attend a student council meeting.

This year each class voted on who they wanted to be their student council representative. These elected members must attend every meeting and are given the privilege to vote on certain issues. But just because you may not be an elected member doesn't mean you can't attend the meetings. Anyone is welcome and it's a great way to find out what's happening within your school.

STUDENT FORUM

On October seventh, the Greencastle-Antrim High School Student Council hosted a forum for student council members in Franklin County and the surrounding counties.

Richard Slagle, from the Lincoln Intermediate Unit was the moderator. He opened the forum by explaining that the meeting's purpose was to give us an opportunity to exchange ideas on topics that are important to high school students, their parents and the entire community.

After his opening address, we gathered to select officers. Students interested in filling an office campaigned by speaking about why they wanted the office and what they would do if elected. Then the forum members voted for the candidate of their choice.

After the officers were chosen, committees were formed. Each committee was assigned a topic to report on. Topics included: Alcohol Abuse; Honor Societies; and Grading Scales.

The next meeting is scheduled for February third. The committees will meet for the last time on April seventh when they will present their completed reports.

CAREER DAY

Every year in the fall, Student Council sponsors Career Day. Last year's graduates return to spend a day with the juniors and seniors. They all meet in the library to discuss college life and post-graduation plans. This provides the juniors and seniors with an indepth look at the world of work/responsibility and/or college life. The experiences described by the recent graduates help the juniors and seniors better understand what the future holds and make plans/set goals that are realistic and obtainable. The experience is a valuable one that the Student Council looks forward to sponsoring each year.

Advisor: Mr. Summer

Advisor: Miss Baskwill

To the yearbook staff, the yearbook means hard work, late nights and sacrifice. By the time the yearbook gets under way, everyone is working together. Sometimes it's forgotten who is editor of what. It's just plain old fashioned team work as the staff works together designing layouts, gathering stories, scores and pictures, typing, fitting and counting copy, cropping pictures, selling ads, scheduling photographers, selling yearbooks, arguing, worrying, rushing around, meeting deadlines, and finally putting out the book.

Although being a member of the yearbook staff is a lot of hard work, it is a very rewarding job. Among the many rewards are learning to cooperate, listen, accept criticism, and work under pressure. But, all working together is fun and we get to know a lot of people by seeing them in pictures as we design the pages.

The staff would like to thank Mr. Summer and Miss Baskwill for all the times they have stayed late and the advice and help they have given. Also, thanks to Ms. Smith for allowing us the use of the library and for her help in using the computers, doing layouts, solving problems, . . .

PYEA is more than just another school club—it's a service that lends a helping hand. We lend a hand at the Apple Harvest Festival in October, and many other events throughout the year. We help elementary school teachers with students who need extra help in school. Many other activities at the elementary school also receive our help. PYEA activities prepare its members for the future, not just for the next day.

There are about forty people in our high school choir. We meet every Wednesday and Friday during seventh period. Occasionally, we have extra practice. Band started when the community bought us our new uniforms. We really appreciated their thoughtfulness and generosity. The hard work started early in August. It was unbearably hot, but we still had to get the music, routines, and positions on the field set up for the year. Band Camp takes almost all your time. You're at school from morning until night. The only thing you think about is, "How good a Band and Bandfront are we going to have this year? How are we going to do?"

Field Band means you have to want to be doing what you're doing because it takes almost all your time to get everything organized - practice every Tuesday and Thursday night from 6:00 until 8:00. When you are practicing you have to give 110% for 2 solid hours. It becomes very frustrating because everyone says something different and you don't know which way to turn. When you know there is a competition the upcoming weekend you work extra hard because this is when you realize you are going to be competing against other bands. Pressure builds because you don't have any idea what the other band's shows look like.

Finally, it's the big time - the bus trip to the competition. All you think about is "How will we do? How will I do?" It really doesn't hit you until you arrive at the competition. This is the first time you see other bands practicing before going on the field. All you keep asking is, "Is our work as good as theirs? Can we beat them?"

When the time comes to warm-up we become dead serious about our show. After we warm-up, we get in a big huddle. Mr. Forney gives us a strong pep talk. Then, just before we line up, we give each other a hug and a good luck wish.

By now we are so nervous that walking out to the field becomes a real effort. We walk on the field as they announce us as "The Pride of Greencastle." It gives us a great feeling. When the crowd starts yelling for us, it becomes easy for us to show our pride.

While we wait for the judges to get ready, the only thing I think about is, "What if I drop my silk? Will anyone see me mess up?" But, you have to think about the work. When the Drum Major says "Horns Up!", it's time for the show to begin.

After your performance, you either have a great feeling or a bad feeling. It all depends on how well you think you've performed. We get off the field and talk about the show and how well we think we did.

Finally, the time comes for awards. Everybody becomes quiet, sits anxiously, and waits for the awards. The announcer says how well we all performed. It just makes us more nervous. When he gets to our group and announces our place, we have to stand there without showing any emotion. When we get back to the buses, we either explode with excitement, or sulk with disappointment. This is when we realize that all the hard work we put into the year has paid off.

We couldn't have a Band and Bandfront without Mr. Forney, Dawn McLain, Bobbi Sheely, Sue Meek, the entire school, and the community. Thanks for the help, the time, the effort, and most of all the support everybody gave us.

This year's team played better than I anticipated. Many games were extremely close contests. The highlight of the season was out 0-0 tie with Waynesboro.

There were only three seniors on this year's team. With all our returning players, and some of the Junior Varsity players, we should have a super team in '86.

To add to our great year, Walt Cornet made the Blue Mountain League All Star Team.

GA Beats Waynesboro

One of the greatest days during this year's hockey season was when the GA Devilettes played the Waynesboro Maidens. We did something no other team has done for 3 years, and that was beat Waynesboro by a score of 1-0. The only goal was scored in the second half with 13 minutes left in the game. Deb Rine, the wing, took a corner and passed the ball to Candy Angle. Candy then scored the only goal of the game. During the rest of the game, the defense was able to hold off any scoring efforts made by the Maidens. It was a tremendous team effort. It was a day we will never forget.

The J.V. team came very close to defeating the Maidens also, the final score was 0-1. They played very tough, even down to the last second.

I would like to wish best of luck to everyone who is going to play hockey next year, and never forget to use your scoops. This year could have never been possible without the coaches, THANKS!

Even though the 1985 football season did not turn out as we had hoped, the team did take steps in the right direction. We won the first game of the season over Kenard Dale, tied against our arch-rival James Buchanan, and made a very good showing against a strong New Oxford team.

Part of this success was due to the intensive weight program started by Coach Hough. He also instituted a new offense and defense which will prove even more effective next year. I believe the team's attitude also has changed, giving us the hunger to win.

I am sure that with even more weight training and hard work, next year's team will make bigger strides toward a winning team. Good luck next year, we'll be cheering for you!

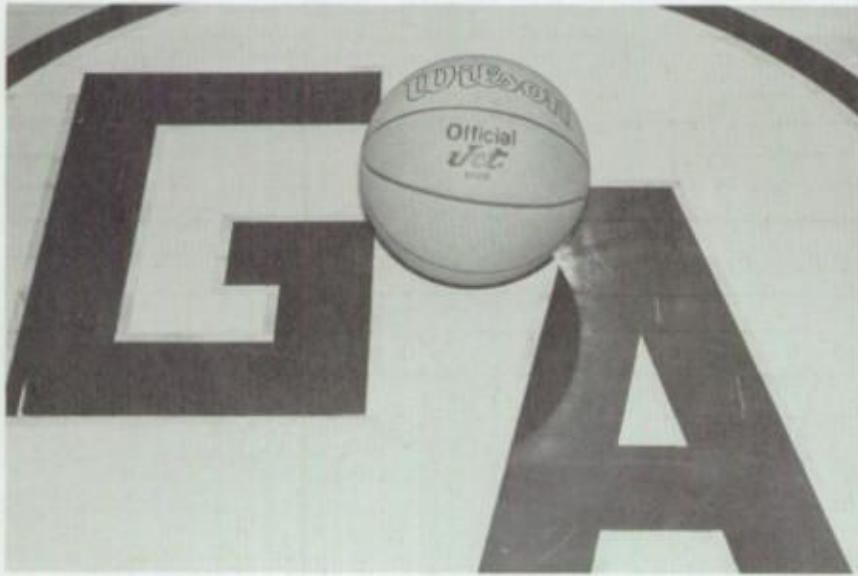

Big Breakthrough

BOUNCING B-BALL

The 1985-86 Girls Basketball team showed great improvement as the season progressed. They played together as a team and showed great leadership through both their wins and losses. Coach Staver helped to improve the team's mistakes, playing as many players as he could in all the games. Even though five seniors are leaving the team this year, next year's players aim to be successful in their season.

Pete Lazich and Mike Hendershott led a quality backcourt that included Brooke Overcash, Todd Hirneisen, and Steve Kerr. Craig Barnes, Rich Smith, Dave Barnhart, and Scott Ingreem contributed points as well as strong rebounding skills. Transfer Kenny Thompson was an anticipated boost the second half of the season.

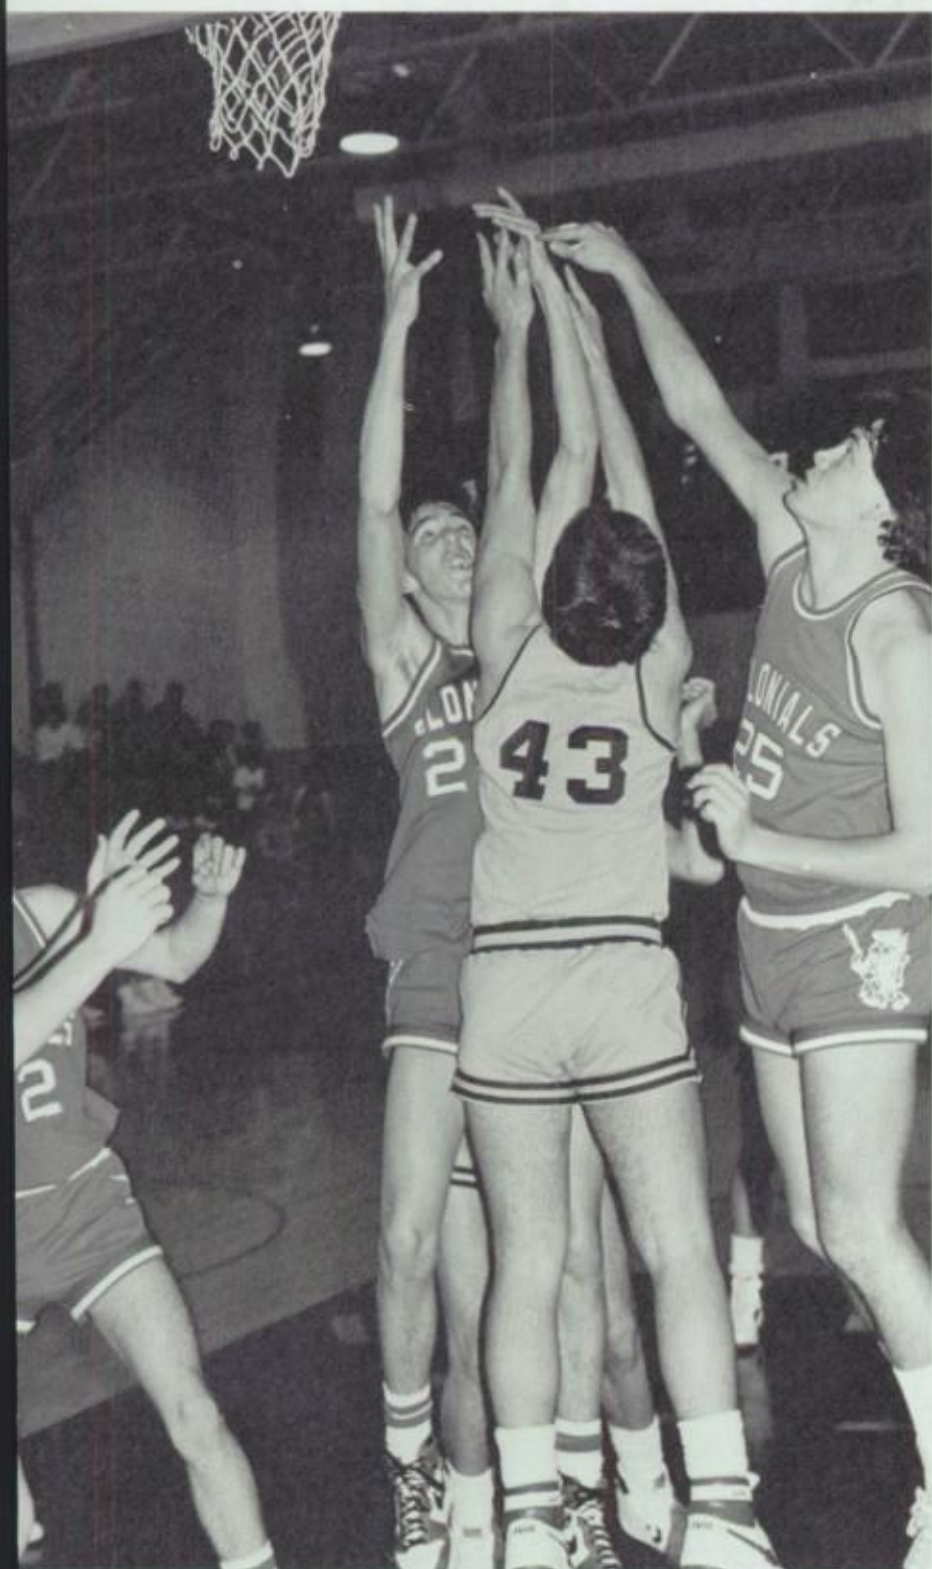

This year's team started well, and finished second in the first half of the BML season. The team also captured the Shippensburg Christmas Tournament Trophy with Tim Starliper being named Outstanding Player.

WRESTLING WRAPUPS

The 1985-86 Varsity Wrestling Team was led by two of the best wrestlers in the state: senior Carl Blair and junior Mike Ezolt. The team is moving toward the top of the BML with a more balanced lineup of quality wrestlers. This year's season was much improved over last year's—a school record for wins was set. If just one more match went our way against the three best teams in the BML, we'd have won those meets. The 1986-87 team is set on improving this year's season and establishing a winning tradition.

PA STATE CHAMPIONS

Since 1980, Greencastle-Antrim has had one of the top cross country teams in the state. 1985 kept the momentum at its usual maximum level. Racing through a perfect 8-0 dual season, the boys raised the longest dual meet winning streak in Pennsylvania to 61. The streak goes back to 1980. The boys also won the Blue Mountain League regular season for the sixth straight year. They picked up wins at the Franklin County Invitationals, the Boonesboro Invitationals, and the State College Invitationals.

The boys squad, coached by Greg Hoover, finished the season in fine style, easily winning the BML Conference Meet Championship (the first win in the past six years), and their second consecutive P.I.A.A. District III team title. It was the boys' fourth district title in the past six years, and the strongest performance ever by a Greencastle team at a district meet. The boys pushed four runners into the top thirteen positions. In the final meet at the end of the year, the P.I.A.A. Cross Country State Championships, the boys were awarded the State Runner-Up trophy for their performance.

Unlike the girls team, the boys team was lead by a pack of runners, and not any one individual. The boys found their strength in numbers. A different number-one runner seemed to appear every race. However, the team was not without its individual heroes.

Sophomore Matt McDonald served notice to the rest of the state that he will be a force to be reckoned with in the next few years. A strong fourteenth place finish in the state meet marked him as one of the best sophomores in the state. Matt also won All-District honors by finishing fourth as well as gaining All-Conference honors.

Seniors Pete Lazich and Keith Eshleman, gained All-Conference and All-District honors, as did junior Todd Hirneisen. Senior Bill Derrick and junior Steve Kerr also picked up All-Conference honors.

For seniors Pete Lazich, Keith Eshleman, Bill Derrick, Duane Wible, Craig Vanderau, and Joe Trobaugh, it was a fitting end to a very successful careers as GAHS Harriers. It included twenty-eight straight dual meets without a loss, numerous invitational wins, four regular season BML titles, three BML Conference meet titles, one Runner-Up trophy, two district titles, two fourths, a twelfth, and a Runner-Up at the state meet.

Losing six seniors means next year will be a rebuilding year for the Devils. But, along with McDonald, Hirneisen, and Kerr, the boys have an excellent nucleus of underclassmen returning. Todd Martin had an outstanding year, as did Jeremy Hirneisen, despite missing half the season with a leg injury. Tom Karinshak made great improvements from his freshmen year, and freshman Brenton Thomas and Tracey Weller show great promise.

1986 should be an interesting year. But make no mistake about it-1985 continued the five year old dynasty.

1985 P.I.A.A. CLASS AA STATE CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPIONS! Only one team in Pennsylvania can claim that title, and the claim belongs to the Girls' Cross Country Team of Greencastle-Antrim. After being so close for the past four years, Coach Greg Hoover's girls captured the first state championship ever by a Greencastle girls team and the third state championship in the school's history. (The boys hold the other two capturing the title in 1980 and 1981).

"You deserve it" were the words Coach Hoover used through-out the season. "I really meant that. The senior girls on the team had been so close and so consistent over the past four years. They worked very hard, year round, and the only goal they hadn't accomplished was winning a state championship."

It was a success from the start as the girls went undefeated, capturing the Blue Mountain League Championship on the way. It was the third year in a row they won the league. With their 7-0 record, they ran their undefeated dual meet streak to 26-0 over a three-year period. The senior girls lost only one meet in four years, compiling an impressive 28-1 mark.

The girls also won team titles in the Franklin County Invitationals, the Tri-State Invitationals, the Boonesboro Invitationals, and the State College Invitationals. They followed that by winning their fourth consecutive BML Conference Meet title, and the P.I.A.A. District III Championship. It was their third district title in four years.

The girls were led all season by three-time high school ALL-AMERICAN, Tracy Bowers. Her impressive stats for this year: undefeated in all dual meets; individual winner in the Franklin County Invitationals, the Judges Classic Invitationals, Winchester, Virginia; the Tri-State Invitationals; the Boonesboro Invitationals; the State College Invitationals; an unprecedented fourth BML Conference Meet title; a district meet win for the second year in a row. Then she got the one she really wanted for the past four years-Individual Cross Country STATE CHAMPION. Her time was the fastest of the day for females and proved she was the best in the state.

But one person does not make a team. Finishing right behind Tracy in every meet was senior Carol Ritz. Carol finished an excellent four-year career by once again picking up all-conference and all-district honors. Her biggest race of the year came when it counted most-at the state meet. Running her best race ever, Carol finished twelfth out of two hundred and fifty girls in the race, and two thousand five hundred girls who attempted to get to the state meet. For that, she received all-state honors.

Kim College, who Coach Hoover called "a consistent team runner for four years," played a very important role in the team's success. She, too, claimed all-conference honors, along with "youngsters" Michele Robinson, Lori Derrick, and Karen Stinson. Tonya Nisewander rounded out the top seven, with supporting help from Natalie Heefner, Nikki Shockey, and Susy Sterner. The only disappointment was season long injuries to seniors Lisa Ritz and Kim College.

Next year should prove a challenging one. It's hard to improve on a state championship. It's even harder when you lose valuable seniors as the girls' team will. However, the coaching staff feels that the returning girls will be more than up to the task of keeping Greencastle number one.

CHAMP OF CHAMPIONS

This year's cross country season was my best ever. I ran just about every race faster than the years before. I also broke most of my records this year and I was undefeated for the entire season. This year was by far my best because the team and I both won every dual meet, Conference, Districts, and the big one - States!

SCHOOL DAY MEMORIES

As we reach out our hand
The diploma we grasp,
While we think of the memories
Of the years in the past.
Tears fill our eyes
Because it's all gone,
We're starting a new life,
We have to move on.
We hope friends will keep in touch
As the years pass us by,
Although it hurts inside
We'll try not to cry.
We think of kindergarten
And our first day,
Now we've reached the end
We are going away.
How do you say good-by
To friends who mean so much?
Will there be time
To sincerely keep in touch?
You'll always have the memories
Of your school years from day one,
Don't think of school as ending-
Think a new life has begun.
